Engineers' Program Includes Visit to William and Mary

An excursion to Williamsburg, Jamestown and Yorktown will be one of the features of the fall meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers, which will convene in Richmond, Wednesday, October 17.

The Society, with headquarters at the Jefferson Hotel, will hold business sessions in Richmond throughout the day Wednesday, and during the morning Thursday. They will leave Richmond Thursday at 2 p. m., arriving in Williamsburg at 3 o'clock. Transportation facilities have been donated by friends of the College, and the party will be taken to Jamestown immediately upon their arrival here. They will be brought back to Williamsburg, where they will be guests of the College at "An Old Virginia Dinner," served in the College dining hall at 7 o'clock.

The party will leave Williamsburg about 8:30 by motor for Jamestown, and will go aboard the Steamer Southland, where they will remain until their arrival in Washington Saturday morning. They will visit Norfolk, the Navy Yard, Old Point, Yorktown, and other points of interest, and will leave Old Point Friday night, arriving in Washington Saturday morning.

The Committee on Arrangements at William and Mary is composed of Charles C. Robinson, Architect in charge of the new dormitory, chairman; A. C. Copeland and J. H. Cosby (working with Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, president of the College). Transportation arrangements are in the hands of Dr. W. A. Hamilton, of the Department of Citizenship and Government, who has arranged for sufficient cars to transport the guests to and from Jamestown.

New Athletic Field To Be Built Soon

A deal was closed Monday whereby the College has acquired the Bright Farm, just west of the campus. The property, which contains 274 acres, was purchased for $33,000; this purchase, however, does not include the house and 10 acres of land, which were retained by the owner.

Engineers will begin work immediately laying out the new athletic field which is to be on that part of the property adjoining Cary Field, generally known as the Bright Orchard. The new field will be connected with the new gymnasium, which will have dressing rooms and showers opening onto it.

The new athletic park will be modern in its equipment, and much larger than Cary Field. In addition to a quarter-mile cinder track with 220-yard straight-way, it will have two football gridirons, and two baseball diamonds. It will also be completely equipped for all branches of track activities, and it is hoped that some friend of the College will donate the

Literary Magazine To Appear Nov. 1

Copy for the November number of the William and Mary Literary Magazine has gone to the printers, and what is expected to be one of the best issues ever turned out will appear on November 1. Following the usual program, the staff of the magazine intends to give the College six issues per session, which will be distributed on the first days of the following months: November, December, February, either March or April, May, and June.

As usual there are many contributions of all sorts and descriptions, some of which are good while others are plainly first attempts. Students are warned not to get discouraged if their stories fail to appear, for in many cases they need to be retouched, while in others, failure to sign contributions properly makes the staff doubtful as to their source.

E. Welford Brauer, Editor of the publication, specially requests that all contributions be signed with the full name of the contributor. If the story or poem is desired to appear with the writer's pen name or initials this should be stated. All papers submitted to the Literary Magazine may be addressed accordingly and placed in the Flat Hat Box in front of the Main Building, but the staff does not guarantee to print anything unless it is signed as a matter of good faith and originality of source.

Although much material is being received there is a shortage of good short stories and all who feel that their talents are inclined in this direction are urged to try their hand at it. However, poems and essays are always acceptable, there being no definite time set for handing in contributions. They may be placed in the Flat Hat Box any time but the sooner they are in the hands of the editor, the earlier they are likely to be published.

Indians Forced To Bow To Syracuse

Against the cream of American football teams, William and Mary went down to defeat last Saturday by owning the small end of a 61 to 3 score. The game was played before a crowd of 15,000, which was brought to its feet several times by the broken field running of Bowman and Foley, the brilliant Syracuse halfbacks.

On the first kick-off Bowman received the ball on his own goal line, and ran 100 yards for a touchdown. During the same quarter Foley received a kick-off on his own 2-yard line and ran through a broken field for a touchdown. The fine interference of McBride enabled his running mates to get away for many lengthy gains.

Women's Tribunal Punishes Defenders

With great pomp and ceremony, and while the hearts of 320 ducs stood still, the Woman's Supreme Court held its sixth session, Saturday, October 6, at 8:30 p. m. The meeting took place in the gymnasium of Jefferson Hall.

Absolute quiet reigned as the Honorable Helen Lannigan, high judge of the Supreme Court, marched in preceded by the attorneys and the twelve jurors.

The court proceedings were decidedly regular. Carolyn Kelly, the clerk, read from the huge book of offenses the particular charges against a particular duc. This duc, called forward, was arraigned by the prosecuting attorney, Margaret Lawless, and upheld by the attorney for the defense, Lucy Holt. The twelve jurors, after lengthy discussions, passes in a verdict upon which Judge Lannigan based her sentence. The Sheriff, Elizabeth Fristoe, was on hand with her assistants, among whom was a dog catcher, Frankie Lopp.

Many of the solemn cases caused the audience to be convulsed with laughter. To the close observer, it was evident that most of these outbursts followed the speeches of Attorneys Lawless and Holt.

A duc from Massachusetts was called up for insulting the Confederate flag. Attorney Lawless declared that "this heinous duc who encumbered the campus of the College of William and Mary" should be shown no consideration. The offense was evidence in itself.

Attorney Holt defended that the source of the insult should be noted. The unfortunate duc was not responsible. She had just graduated from the Snicklefritz Academy where she was the revered member of a class of seven, whose motto was, "Ad gloriam to my school or bustian." Could she know what to do at William and Mary?

The duc was pronounced guilty and

Important Question Discussed by Council

Shall the Woman's Student Council announce the results of its actions in affairs of honor to the Woman's Student Government Organization? Such was the important issue under discussion at the first regular meeting of the Woman's Student Government Organization, Monday, October 1. No definite decision was reached.

The President of the Council, Elizabeth Kent, introduced the question. She stated that in the light of two years' experience the organization might desire to reconsider the decision made in 1921 that all actions of the Council should be announced.

Since opinions were widely diverse, a heated discussion ensued. The president finally found it necessary to appoint a committee to think the matter over and introduce their arguments at the October meeting.

English Department Taxed To Capacity

Some idea of the scope of the work being done by the Department of English in the College of William and Mary may be had from the following figures compiled by Prof. Edward M. Gwathmey, head of the Department.

In the freshman English classes there are 423 students, distributed as follows:

320 in Grammar.
35 in Composition.
93 in Literature.

In addition, there are 35 students in the Dramatic Course under Mr. White, and 30 in the courses in Expository Writing and Browning taught by Prof. Gwathmey.

In Freshman English Mr. Gwathmey is being assisted by Prof. Gelsinger, and Mr. Irvine White. Messrs. Joseph H. Smith, Carl Withers, and Cecil R. Ball have been added to the faculty as instructors.

Mr. Smith is a graduate with the degree of A. B. from Haverford College, and has had two years of graduate work at Harvard University, where he received the M. A. degree in 1923.

Mr. Withers is a graduate with degree of A. B. from Harvard University, and taught for a half year at Northwestern University.

Mr. Ball received his B. A. degree at the College of William and Mary last year.

The courses in freshman English are so much in demand that every teacher is being used in Extension

John Todd Elected Captain of Football

John Todd, of Newport News, star center on the varsity team for the past two years, was elected captain of the 1923 team at the election held Monday night.

Prior to entering William and Mary in the fall of 1921, Todd played on the Newport News High School team. Since entering College, he has played in every varsity game, and his aggressiveness and steadiness under all conditions easily put him in the running for All-Southern honors.

In addition to his ability as a football player, Todd has also been a member of the varsity basketball and baseball squads and has taken part in track activities during his two years in College.

NOTICE!

Money is still needed for the new Men's Gymnasium. Joe Perkins and Junie Hord will be at the game tomorrow offering refreshments for sale, the proceeds to go to the Gym Fund. Everyone, especially freshmen, is urged to bring along a pocket full of loose change to help swell the Fund.

Bugs Leading Hard Life These Days

Beware! Beware! O ye bugs of Williamsburg! Be it known to all ye bugs, big bugs, little bugs, and doodle bugs that from now, henceforth, and always, these parts are no place for wandering bugs. When out for a little evening spin among the shrubs and flowers, be sure that one of these so-called harmless roaming individuals is no where near you. If you should accidentally be netted in an attack upon your life, it will mean that your downfall from the skies of freedom to the canning jars of laboratories will be certain.

Little bug, little bug, do you ever stop to wonder why you are chased over field and meadow for your valuable life, by such atrocious animals as sensible men? Sometimes in an effort to escape you gently stop on some flower or twig for a second to rest your weary wings. Instantly you are caught and placed in a bottle containing such delicate stupefying odors that you must take a nap for a little while. We wonder, little bug, if you realize that you are crossing the border from where you enjoyed your happy and unselfish life to some unknown world.

Now you have passed to the land of Nomore. Do not worry, buggie, for you have seen a blissful life as compared to others. Now, while you are gently sleeping in a peaceful sleep, there are your captors who stand over your remains in laboratories, wondering why you did not have larger wings, so that you could have escaped, and that they, too, some of the miseries of this life. Some day, little bug, you will not be chased from your place in this life. You will be mounted on a stone as an emblem of the service you gave so nobly, and then you shall look down upon your foes and wonder and understand what it was all about.

Y. W. C. A. Doing Much For Students of William and Mary

The Y. W. C. A. aims to promote in William and Mary students wholesome social life, and religious development. The spiritual work is the work of the Bible Study Committee, for the Bible is the hand-book and guide of the girls in this branch.

The religious work of the Y. W. is divided into three different activities. One of the most popular and impressive is Vesper services, which are held in all the girls' dormitories several times a week. The students themselves conduct these meetings.

The Y. W. is also planning morning watch, which is a short service held before breakfast. These services have been found to succeed very well elsewhere—they help to "start the day right," and it is hoped they will be popular at William and Mary.

The Y. W. C. A. conducts a Bible Study Class for girls. Dr. W. A. R. Goodwin, of the faculty, is the advisor of the class, though meetings themselves are led by the girls.

Ima: "I understand your son is very much inclined toward study."

Lyre: "Yes, he inclined so much he slid to the bottom of his class."

Monogram Club For Girls Is Organized

The organization meeting of the Women's Monogram Club was held in Chapel October 4.

The purpose of the Club is to aid in the development of athletics for women, and to assist the Athletic Association in every possible way.

Officers were elected as follows:

President, Julia Dixon.

Vice-President, Nellie G. Chase.

Sec'y and Treas., Daisy Sears.

The following girls are the organizers: Francis Gibbons, Anne Townsend, Carolyn Sinclair, Nellie G. Chase, Francis Saunders, Charlotte Best, Daisy Sears and Julia Dixon.

Girls Hockey Squad Working Out Daily

The girls' hockey season started a week ago, and the outlook seems very bright. Many of last year's varsity returned, among them being, "Tommy" Bland, Emma Ball, "Tommie" Sinclair, Charlotte Best, Daisy Sears, Ethel Peters, Iola Wyatt, Ellen Moody, Alice Moss, Hilda Caddy, Frankie Lopp, Mabel Davis, Rosena Bauers, Mattie Hubbard, Mary Lassiter and Mary Custis Foster. There are also about thirty "Duc" girls trying out for the team and there seems to be some keen competition. Miss Brown and Miss Wales are the coaches, assisted by Emma Ball, "Tommie" Sinclair, Charlotte Best, Iola Wyatt and Alice Moss. Practice is held in front of the Library five afternoons a week. There will be no inter-collegiate games this year, but the Intra-Mural games are being looked forward to with great anticipation. A demonstration game is scheduled for one day next week, in which only the oldest and more experienced players will participate.

This branch of women's athletics, although just installed last year, has gained rapidly in importance and is now one of the three major sports. If it continues to grow at its present rapid rate, it is hoped that by next year games will be scheduled with the other colleges of the State.

Classes In Boxing Now Being Offered

Advanced work in gymnasium is being offered for the first time this quarter under the direction of Physical Director, L. Tucker Jones, assisted by Mr. Siersma. The advanced work consists of a class in the fundamentals of sparring and boxing. At present this class is composed almost entirely of new men, but it is hoped that a number of football and track men will enroll at the end of the season.

The other class is taking work with apparatus, including the horizontal bars, parrallel bars and tumbling. This class also is composed largely of freshmen.

The class in boxing opens up a new field of sport to students of the College, and Coach Jones has expressed a desire for as many men as possible to take the work.

Indians And Guilford Meet Tomorrow at 2:30

The first collegiate game on William and Mary's home schedule will be played Saturday at 2:30 at the Fair Grounds against Guilford College. A good game is expected as both teams are in fine shape. The Indians are raring to take revenge for the defeats at Annapolis and Syracuse, while Guilford will gain its first victory of the season if it wins, having been beaten by Trinity 68-0.

Although the Indians were defeated both at Annapolis and Syracuse, they made good showings and are expected to show improvement as a result of experience gained in these two games.

Coach Tasker will probably start the same line-up Saturday against Guilford as that which opposed Syracuse. Although the Indians are favored to win, Coach Tasker is driving his men hard this week and putting them through stiff scrimmages.

Portsmouth High Defeats Scrubs

By taking advantage of every mistake made by their opponents, Woodrow Wilson High School, of Portsmouth, defeated the William and Mary Scrubs, Friday afternoon by the score of 20 to 0. Although it was the Scrubs' first game of the season, they fought a fast and furious game during all four quarters.

The Presidents kept the ball in the Scrubs' territory for the greater part of the game and scored in the second and third quarters. The feature of the game was a 30-yard run for a touchdown by Holcomb, after he had intercepted an Indian forward pass.

Roop B. Smith, Ferratt and Merrill played the best game for the Scrubs, while Holcomb and Leitman did the best work for the Presidents.

The line-up follows:

W. & M.	Pos.	Portsmouth
Merrill	L. E.	Rose
B. Smith	L. T.	Allen
Ackiss	L. G.	Griffin
Ferratt	C.	Porter
King	R. G.	Fruend

OUR OPPONENTS' SCORES

Guilford, 0; Wake Forest, 41.

Richmond University, 0; University of Virginia, 9.

BETWEEN THE GOAL POSTS

After stacking up against two of the best teams in the country, the Indians should feel right at home tomorrow when they line up against Guilford College at the Fair grounds. The experience gained by playing such teams as the Navy and Syracuse should prove invaluable to the eleven in the coming games. Incidentally, our last week's opponent played the University of Nebraska last year for the East and Middle-west championship.

Coach Jones should have the best relay team this year that has ever represented William and Mary. With all of last year's team back and with several men from the varsity squad who have shown great improvement, there will be some fast stepping for places on the quartet.

Washington and Lees' stand in refusing to play Washington and Jefferson last Saturday at the eleventh hour has caused considerable comment among the newspapers of the country. Washington and Jefferson insisted that on the right to play West, the famous negro athlete. Because a negro is a famed athlete the dark line of demarcation is not necessarily erased. The William and Mary student body sent a telegram to the Washington and Lee team congratulating them on their stand.

Coaches Brown and Wales issued a call for candidates for the Girls' Hockey Team this week. Hockey is now a major sport for the women. Besides the varsity team there will be class teams between which the competition should be keen. There are several members from last year's squad back, and around these this year's varsity squad will be built.

INDIAN SPASMS

"COME TO SEE ME"

When two Co-eds stop to talk
In the halls or on the walk
No matter what they've had to say
They never fail to part this way:
"Come to see me, now you must,
Good-bye, I'll see you soon, I trust."
Should you decide to go, forsooth,
Each door is graced with some such truth:

"Engaged," or "Busy," "Gone to Sleep,"

As up and down the halls you creep;
"No Admittance," "Keep Out,
Please,

Will also put you at your ease;
Or if into a room you roam
You seldom ever find them home,
And if perchance they're really there

They greet you with a glassy stare
Look at each other with "My dear,
Whatever is she doing here?"

I met a girl the other day
So very nice in every way,
I liked her awfully for a while
Until she added with a smile
"Come to see me, don't forget,"
And so I haven't been there yet.

Y. W. C. A. Holds Annual Candle Light Service

The annual candle light recognition service was held in the chapel Tuesday night, October 9, at 7 o'clock. Attired in white the Y. W. C. A. cabinet entered by the processional "Lead On O King Eternal." The following very impressive ceremony was performed:

Prayer.

Scripture Reading—John I Verses 1-14.

Special Music—Margaret Keister.

Hymn—The Day Is Dying in the West.

Recognition Ceremony by the President, Mildred Vaiden.

Repeating the purpose of the Y. W. C. A.

Silent Prayer.

Soft Hymn by the Choir.

Recessional Hymn, "O Zion Haste."

For the session 1923-24 the Y. W. C. A. has planned to work through committees. The program committee is planning to work out instructive and entertaining programs concerning racial, industrial and campus problems. The social committee is planning to give us at least two parties a month, and perhaps many "extras," while in connection with this group, is working the finance committee, which includes a Bureau of Employment for girls wishing to care for children in town and coach classes.

The music for the year will be developed through a Y. W. C. A. choir that is being organized.

Classes in Bible study are now being held and next term World Fellowship classes will meet to study foreign conditions.

Baptist Ladies Tender Reception

The ladies of the Williamsburg Baptist Church will give a social to the Baptist young people of the College in the Sunday School room at the Baptist Church tonight beginning at 8 o'clock. All students interested in church work are invited to attend and join in the fun and eats.

Y. W. C. A. Speaker Cancels Engagement

Dr. Ophelia N. Kassapian, of Armenia, who was scheduled to talk to the Y. W. C. A. cabinet and the World Fellowship Committee, October 8, cancelled her engagement on account of a meeting of Armenian women in Richmond.

During the World War Dr. Kassapian was forced to do medical work in the Turkish hospitals. Her husband, a surgeon with the Turkish army in Constantinople, was killed by the Turks because of his Christian belief. Recently, she was active in relief work in Smyrna; and now she has returned to America where she is speaking on conditions in the Near East.

The Y. W. regrets Dr. Kassapian's inability to fill the appointment, and hopes to hear her lecture in the near future.

Work. Extension classes are offered in Richmond, Norfolk, Newport News, Portsmouth, Gloucester, Toano, and Williamsburg.

Entrance examinations have been completed, and the averages in the various sections of freshman English show marked improvement over those of last year, indicating much better preparation in the high schools for the college work.

Within a short while the students of freshman English will be classified according to individual averages, that is, the better prepared students will be grouped as a unit, and those showing less preparation will be arranged in smaller groups so as to be given special attention until they can catch up with the higher groups.

College Students And the Red Cross

There is probably no word harder worked in the colleges and universities today than "vision." And it is because of this quest of vision that students are thinking with a clarity, a degree of penetration, an inclusiveness, and an earnestness of purpose which did not characterize preceding generations. Underneath a certain surface lightness engendered by the healthful give-and-take of present day campus life, there is developing a fibre which will stand the test of the epoch upon which the world is entering.

The Red Cross, national and international, recognizes the fact that in the American colleges and universities of today is to be found its leadership for tomorrow, in a work which perhaps more than any other is interpreting to the world at large the full scope and meaning of the ideal of the Brotherhood of Man. Consequently it voices at this time an appeal to the students of America, not only for support in the oncoming Red Cross Roll Call, November 11-29, but for serious constructive study of the work and methods of the Organization, looking toward the day when they will assume their rightful positions of community, State and national leadership.

The demands of the time are increasingly complex, and the future is heavily charged with forces which as yet defy analysis. It is not by chance that you have come to your high place in life. We believe that it is for a purpose, and that without the best each one can do in service to his fellowmen, all life must be poorer in the end.

Will you not therefore, stand with the unconquerable will of a Sidney Lanier to the ideal of service? Through years of poverty which he could have changed by sacrifice of his ideals, and through a greater number of years of illness from tuberculosis which he had not the power to change, the beloved poet of the Southland struggled on, until with a temperature of 104, and while too weak to feed himself, he penciled his last and greatest poem, "Sunrise," afraid that he would die ere the completion of his task.

"Knowledge we ask not—knowledge Thou hast lent;

But Lord, the will—there lies our bitter need;

Give us to build above a deep intent, The deed, the deed!"

INDIANS FORCED TO BOW TO SYRACUSE

See the student. He is in a classroom. Why is he in the classroom? He does not know. He will tell the world he does not know. Where is his text-book? It is still in the bookstore. What is a text-book? It is a book written by a professor and sold to his students to keep him from starving. This student has fooled his professor. He has not bought a book. He should worry if the professor starves. What is this? The student has forgotten. The professor is going to call on him. Will he answer? No, he will not. Why will he not? Because he is asleep.

JOSEPH HENRY
1797-1878

Born at Albany, N. Y., where he became teacher of mathematics and physics in Albany Academy. Leading American physicist of his time. First director of the Smithsonian Institution.

When Henry rang the bell

If any bell was ever heard around the world, Joseph Henry rang it in his famous experiment at the Albany Academy. The amazing development of the electrical industry traces back to this schoolmaster's coil of insulated wire and his electro-magnet that lifted a ton of iron.

Four years later when Morse used Henry's electro-magnet to invent the telegraph, Henry congratulated him warmly and unselfishly.

The principle of Henry's coil of wire is utilized by the General Electric Company in motors and generators that light cities, drive railroad trains, do away with household drudgery and perform the work of millions of men.

The work that was begun by pioneers like Joseph Henry is being carried on by the scientists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company. They are constantly searching for fundamental principles in order that electricity may be of greater service to mankind.

forced to sing "Dixie," after which she was consigned to jail to die.

Another duc was tried for attempting to buy at the College Shop a monogram, a gold foot ball, and a Sigma Nu Pin. Lawless questioned this duc. Since her sophistication was extremely great, could she inform the court what Sigma Nu?

Attorney Holt came immediately to the rescue. Her client showed, by the years in which her hair had become unkinked, that she had joined that worthy band of women who had found that the only way to possess Sigma Nu was to buy them.

As the guilty duc was unable to tell the court what Sigma Nu, she was sentenced to wear a safety pin over her heart for one week.

Judge Lannigan dismissed the court at a late hour.

First Opening Dance Was Big Success

The first of the Cotillion Club's Opening Dances, held last night in the gymnasium of Jefferson Hall, was a great success. Many visiting girls, alumni, and friends were present, and the music furnished by Garber-Davis-Melodians was exceptionally good.

The closing dance will be tonight in the gym. Tickets will be on sale at the College Shop this evening. No tickets will be sold to students at the door, though visitors arriving late may secure theirs at the dance.

Tasker and Todd Speak at Hampton

Coach Tasker and Captain John Todd were the principal speakers at the "football rally" of the Hampton Rotary Club Tuesday.

The meeting was held for the purpose of creating among the citizens of Hampton a keener interest in high school athletics. Coach Tasker and Captain Todd both spoke of the importance of supporting the teams; and of the necessity of cooperation of the people of the city to insure successful athletics.

Watson Copeland, Coach of the Hampton team, and former Indian star, also spoke at this meeting.

With the new athletic field at its disposal, the department of athletics will be able to lay considerably more stress upon all athletic activities. With more room for practice, and with better facilities for development of track games, interest in track work is expected to increase rapidly.
